

GROUND TRANSPORTATION

Getting around Cincinnati has never been easier or more affordable.

Cincinnati's compact downtown makes getting around incredibly easy. You will be able to walk to world-class attractions, professional sports venues and four-star restaurants. But when you want to explore all that Cincinnati USA has to offer, convenient transportation services are available throughout the region.

TO/FROM AIRPORT

The Airporter

Whether you're arriving or departing from Cincinnati/Northern Kentucky International Airport (CVG), The Airporter is the easiest and least expensive way to get between downtown Cincinnati and CVG or downtown Covington and CVG. It means no extra time parking and no worries. Only $2 per trip.

The Transit Authority of Northern Kentucky (TANK) operates The Airporter, the easiest way to get downtown from the airport

Taxi

The rate from CVG to downtown Cincinnati is $34 for 1-4 people. CVG is located 13 miles south of downtown Cincinnati in Northern Kentucky.

Shuttles and Limos

Transportation to and from the airport can be reserved ahead of time and confirmed the day prior to travel. Visit www.cincyusa.com/transportation/services for a variety of options.

For instance, Executive Transportation Services offers $36 per person round trip airport transfers to any pickup/drop off location in Cincinnati or Northern Kentucky. Their fleet ranges from vehicles that can accommodate 1-14 passengers to motor coaches for larger parties.

Ridesharing

Both Uber and Lyft have a strong presence in Cincinnati and Northern Kentucky, offering affordable airport service to travelers.

AROUND TOWN

Personal Power – Get a Move On!

In such a safe and walkable city, attendees often enjoy experiencing downtown on foot or on bikes, which can be rented at conveniently located Red Bike stations.

The Red Bike bike sharing system consists of 56 stations and 442 bikes

Downtown Streetcar

The Cincinnati Bell streetcar runs up to 18 hours a day, 365 days a year, moving locals and visitors along a 3.6-mile downtown loop from the riverfront, through the city center and around the trendy Over-the-Rhine neighborhood. The Duke Energy Convention Center and most downtown hotels are just steps from this route, seamlessly connecting all five of the city's main entertainment districts.

Cincinnati Metro

For those looking for a little more than just downtown, Cincinnati Metro provides public bus transportation to area attractions for reasonable prices.

All Metro routes begin at Government Square, adjacent to Fountain Square in downtown Cincinnati, with stops extending out from downtown into six zones. This is the region's primary municipal public transportation alternative, operating from approximately 4 AM to 1:30 AM daily.

Fare: $1-$4 (based on zone), plus day passes are available for Zones 1 and 2 and are sold on the bus for extra convenience.

Southbank Shuttle – operated by Transit Authority of Northern Kentucky (TANK)

Cincinnati convention attendees and residents alike can board a shuttle bus to get to Northern Kentucky dining and entertainment areas such as: Newport on the Levee (a multi-venue complex that houses retail, dining and entertainment), Hofbrauhaus Newport, the Newport Aquarium, MainStrasse Village and much more.

The service operates daily: Monday-Thursday (6 AM – 10 PM); Friday (6 AM – midnight); Saturday (10 AM – midnight); and, Sunday (10 AM – 10 PM). The cost is $1 per person (exact change is required; no transfers). The service runs every 15–20 minutes.

Ridesharing

Both Uber and Lyft are readily accessible in the city's convention and entertainment districts, as well as throughout the region.

Taxi

For those who prefer taxis/cabs, service is provided to Cincinnati and surrounding areas 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Regardless of company, reservations can be made by contacting 513.35.FETCH (33824).

The Cincinnati Bell Connector is an electric streetcar that complements Cincinnati's award-winning Metro bus service

Many attendees prefer Uber and Lyft as easy and convenient transportation options. Reservations can be made via the app or online.
